ABOUT ME:

Amazing, energetic caregiver with a genuine passion for children and the environment. I believe kids learn best when they are moving, exploring, and connecting with nature- and I bring that energy every day.

I am a sitter who turns the backyard into a science and cleanup into a game. Parents love that I am reliable and consistence, but kids love me because I make learning fun and active. I am patient, positive and I treat every child with respect and encouragement.

My goal is to help children grow in confidence, curiosity and care for themselves, others and the world around them.
